The Partners' Meeting Panic

about 75 s · 10 clips × 8 s | 177 words | Hook: "What would happen if..." (hook reference library)

Awareness: practices guess their referral numbers. Features: Analytics (volume, case acceptance, consultations), Top procedures, Referral outcomes, Export PDF. Front-desk cost: hours building reports. GP value: instant answers about their patient.

#	DIALOGUE (8 S)	EXPRESSION	ON SCREEN / EDIT
01	“What would happen if your partners asked how many referrals you got last month? Go ahead. I'll wait.”	Challenging, then a patient, smug wait	Red flash · stacked text WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF... · a ticking “I'll wait” timer
02	“Our front desk answered with a sticky note, a coffee-stained spreadsheet, and, quote, ‘roughly a bunch.’”	Deadpan, air quotes on “roughly a bunch”	A sticky note, a coffee-ringed spreadsheet and a “roughly a bunch” speech bubble stack up
03	“Then someone asked which procedures GPs send us most. The room went quieter than a waiting room on Sunday.”	Mock-awkward, a slow look around	A boardroom silhouette · cricket-quiet “...” bubble · an empty waiting room icon
04	“And that guessing costs money: hours of front-desk time building reports, and marketing aimed at the wrong procedures.”	Humour drops; serious	A payroll clock over a report draft · a marketing target with the arrow missing
05	“ToothReferral's analytics does the counting: volume received, case acceptance, and consultations scheduled, all for the last thirty days.”	Relieved, explaining	Split screen: the real KPI cards and Consultations scheduled chart, each highlighted in turn
06	“Top procedures shows what GPs actually refer to you, so you know exactly which treatments to promote.”	Bright, an “aha” look	Top procedures panel: Crown Recementation, Implant Restoration, Sleep Appliance highlighted
07	“Referral outcomes shows where every case stands, so when a GP asks about their patient, you answer in seconds.”	Warm, reassuring	Referral outcomes donut: Awaiting contact, Consultation, Scheduled, Completed · a GP question bubble answered ✓
08	“Then hit Export PDF, and the partners' meeting report is done before the coffee is even ready.”	Pleased, a little smug	Cursor clicks “Export PDF” · a report slides out · a coffee cup still brewing
09	“The return? Even one extra referral from a procedure you finally promote covers the software for the whole year.”	Confident, holding up one finger	“1 referral = a full year covered” with 12 months filling in
10	“Start your free ToothReferral trial today, and walk into your next partners' meeting with actual numbers.”	Warm, confident	The sticky note is swapped for the PDF report → logo, “Start your free trial” button, end card

The Boomerang Patient

about 75 s · 10 clips × 8 s | 191 words | Hook: "I bet you didn't know this..." (hook reference library)

Awareness: finished cases that never go back to the GP cost referrals. Features: Cases Completed, Download PDF for patient, Outgoing referrals. Front-desk cost: letters, copies, “where do I go next?” calls. GP value: their patient comes back for restorative care.

#	DIALOGUE (8 S)	EXPRESSION	ON SCREEN / EDIT
01	“I bet you didn't know this: your best referral source is the patient you send back to the GP.”	Conspiratorial, a knowing smile	Red flash · stacked text I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW THIS · a boomerang spins in
02	“Treatment's done. The patient leaves. Then the GP calls: ‘So... are we getting them back, or did you adopt them?’”	Playing both voices, mock-suspicious on the GP line	A patient card walks off · a GP phone bubble with an adoption certificate gag
03	“Meanwhile your front desk is printing letters, mailing copies, and answering ‘where do I go next?’ calls all afternoon.”	Exasperated, counting on fingers	Printer, envelopes and ringing phone icons pile up on the front desk
04	“That costs twice: payroll on paperwork, and a GP who wonders if sending you patients means losing them.”	Humour drops; serious	A payroll clock over the paper pile · a GP referral arrow fading out
05	“ToothReferral's Cases Completed list shows every patient who's finished with you and ready to go back to their dentist.”	Relieved, explaining	Split screen: the real Cases Completed list, rows highlighted
06	“Download PDF for patient gives them their own clear copy, so they know exactly where to go next.”	Helpful, a satisfied nod	Cursor clicks “Download PDF for patient” · a PDF lands with “next stop: your dentist”
07	“Referring someone onward, say to a periodontist? Outgoing referrals tracks the cases you send out, just like the ones you receive.”	Practical, a light shrug	Outgoing referrals tab: Receiving Office and Sent columns highlighted
08	“And the GP gets their patient back for the crown, which is great for their production and your relationship.”	Warm, sincere	The boomerang returns to the GP office card · “restorative care: booked ✓”
09	“The return: even one GP who keeps sending patients because they always come back covers the software for a whole year.”	Confident, holding up one finger	“1 GP who keeps referring = a full year covered” with 12 months filling in
10	“Start your free ToothReferral trial today, and turn every finished case into a boomerang, not a mystery.”	Warm, playful	The boomerang lands in his hand → logo, “Start your free trial” button, end card