TOOTH REFERRAL · SCRIPTS 21 TO 23 · THE FEATURE SERIES

After "Buried in Emails": now show the software

Three scripts that build from the first video. Same front desk, same people (Tanya and Amanda, then Greg). Video 1 set the hook: referrals buried in emails, voicemails and faxes, and one promise, "every referral came in as one case". Each new episode takes one part of that promise and shows it on the real screens, feature by feature, and ends on a question that makes the viewer want the next one.

Vejay's notes this answers (13 Nov)

- "Build from the first video, the buried one." Every episode quotes a line from video 1 and pays it off.
- "Focus on showing the features of the software." Each clip names the exact Tooth Referral screen on view; the dialogue is two colleagues using it, not describing it.
- A real story, not problem → solution: each script is told in four acts. Act 1 sets up the people and a normal day. Act 2 lets things go wrong slowly, with a human cost (a scared patient waiting in the chair while two offices play phone tag, a new colleague alone for the first time, a mother's promise to her daughter). Act 3 is the turn, where the software appears the way a colleague would actually use it. Act 4 pays off the story, not the feature. Clips marked STORY carry no product graphics.
- Every episode introduces Tooth Referral, like video 1: one clip marked INTRO where a character says in plain words what Tooth Referral is and how it helps ("Tooth Referral turns every referral into one case... Both offices see it. Nobody digs through email."), so a viewer who never saw video 1 still understands it.
- A different feature set in every script (no repeats): 21 is how the two offices talk (messages on the case), 22 is how it is worked (statuses, reminders, insurance request, notifications), 23 is how it is closed (notes and e-signature).
- "People need to turn the page with curiosity." Each script ends on an open question that the next episode answers.
- "Send me topics before you produce: hook, goal, and how it builds from the first video." The topics are below; nothing gets produced until you approve them.

Topics for approval

Script 21 · Episode 2 · Phone Tag (How the two offices talk: messages right on the case)

Story	A good Monday. Mrs. Ortiz is in for her implant consult and she is scared. Then the doctor needs her newest X-ray before he can start. Tanya calls Gentle Dental: voicemail. Barbara calls back while Tanya is with another patient: missed. Mrs. Ortiz sits in the chair, getting more nervous by the minute.
Topic	Direct messages between the two offices on each case: @mentions, quoted replies, files attached right in the conversation and saved on the case for both offices.

Hook	"Is it bad that my hands are shaking?" · Ten minutes later she is still waiting, and Tanya is stuck in phone tag.
Goal	Everyone who works a front desk knows phone tag. Let the viewer feel it (a scared patient waiting, two offices missing each other) and then see one message solve it in seconds. The viewer leaves thinking: "Why are we still calling each other?"
Builds from video 1	In video 1 Amanda said the referring office "can message us right on the case", and Tanya complained that "the dentist's office calls us constantly". This episode shows that one line as a real moment: the calls stop, the conversation moves onto the case.
Turns the page	Ends on Amanda: "Tomorrow's the real test. You're out, and Greg's on his own." (opens Script 22)

Script 22 · Episode 3 · Tanya's Day Off (How a referral is worked: anyone can pick it up)

Story	Tanya is sick but won't go home: she left Mr. Turner a voicemail and promised herself she'd call back. The next morning Greg is alone at the desk for the first time, Mr. Turner calls, a little annoyed, and Greg has no idea who called him.
Topic	Picking up someone else's work: statuses on every referral, next-step reminders, automatic updates to the referring office, the insurance request link and the notifications feed.
Hook	"Somebody called me yesterday. I've been waiting by the phone all morning." · Greg didn't call him. The person who did is home sick.
Goal	Put the viewer in a moment every office knows (a call about work someone else started) and let them feel Greg's panic before showing the calm answer. The "system for the team" idea is never said; it is felt.
Builds from video 1	In video 1 Tanya asked: "So if I'm out tomorrow..." and Amanda answered: "Greg opens it and knows exactly where it stands." This is that exact day, and Greg's first real test. It also answers video 1's old problem: "every referral lives in someone's inbox or someone's head".
Turns the page	Ends on Tanya's text back: "Tomorrow I have three letters and a recital. Pray for me." (opens Script 23)

Script 23 · Episode 4 · Front Row (How a referral is closed: notes, signed and sent before five)

Story	Tanya's daughter Lily has her first piano solo at 5:30. Tanya promised her the front row. Last spring she missed the first half of the recital typing completion letters. At 4:15 three finished cases land on her desk.

Topic	Closing the loop: note templates that fill themselves in, your own letter imported from Word, routing to the doctor to sign, e-signature, the signed note on the case for both offices, copy into your electronic health record.
Hook	"Front row. She made me promise." · At 4:15, three completion letters land on her desk.
Goal	Give the paperwork a human stake (a promise to a child) and let the software quietly win. The viewer should want those 20 minutes back in their own day.
Builds from video 1	Video 1 opened with a team "losing steam" and a patient nobody called back. This is the other end of the same journey: the loop closes on time and the people go home. Together with 21 and 22 the series follows one referral: the offices talk about it, it is worked, it is closed.
Turns the page	Ends on Greg: "The doctor should see this from the owner's side." · Amanda: "The numbers? That's a whole other story." (opens the Analytics episode)

Each script: 15 to 17 clips of about 8 seconds (about 2 minutes to 2 minutes 20 seconds), in four acts, with a full conversation about the features at the turn. Horizontal 16:9 like video 1, with the split-screen dashboard. Script only; filming prompts come after approval. Demo data: Gentle Dental (general dentist) refers to the specialist office where Tanya, Amanda and Greg work. No doctors are named.

SCRIPT 21 · EPISODE 2 OF THE SERIES

Phone Tag

How the two offices talk: messages right on the case · 17 clips · about 140 seconds · 279 spoken words

Story	A good Monday. Mrs. Ortiz is in for her implant consult and she is scared. Then the doctor needs her newest X-ray before he can start. Tanya calls Gentle Dental: voicemail. Barbara calls back while Tanya is with another patient: missed. Mrs. Ortiz sits in the chair, getting more nervous by the minute.
Topic	Direct messages between the two offices on each case: @mentions, quoted replies, files attached right in the conversation and saved on the case for both offices.
Hook	"Is it bad that my hands are shaking?" · Ten minutes later she is still waiting, and Tanya is stuck in phone tag.
Goal	Everyone who works a front desk knows phone tag. Let the viewer feel it (a scared patient waiting, two offices missing each other) and then see one message solve it in seconds. The viewer leaves thinking: "Why are we still calling each other?"
Builds from video 1	In video 1 Amanda said the referring office "can message us right on the case", and Tanya complained that "the dentist's office calls us constantly". This episode shows that one line as a real moment: the calls stop, the conversation moves onto the case.
Turns the page	Ends on Amanda: "Tomorrow's the real test. You're out, and Greg's on his own." (opens Script 22)
Cast and set	Tanya and Amanda at the same front desk as Buried in Emails. Mrs. Ortiz, a nervous patient, in the waiting room. Barbara (office manager at Gentle Dental, the general dentist who referred her), seen at her own desk.

FEATURES SHOWN

- Office Communication on every case (both offices)
- @mentions that notify the right person
- Quoted replies, so nobody mixes up which question
- Files sent in the conversation land on the case (X-rays shared with both offices)
- The full conversation stays on the case for whoever opens it

The script

DIALOGUE	ON SCREEN (TOOTH REFERRAL)
Act 1 · A good Monday

01	Donuts	Tanya: “Donuts! The team said yes.” Amanda: “Save one for Mrs. Ortiz. She's in at ten, and she's terrified.”	STORY. Tanya sets a box of donuts on the desk. Easy morning light.
02	Shaking	Mrs. Ortiz: “Is it bad that my hands are shaking?” Tanya: “Totally normal. You're in great hands.”	STORY. Mrs. Ortiz at the counter, clutching her purse. Tanya, kind and calm, walks her to a chair.
Act 2 · Phone tag
03	The X-ray	Amanda: “The doctor needs her newest X-ray. The one we have is from 2022.” Tanya: “I'll call Gentle Dental.”	STORY. Amanda leans out from the treatment-room door.
04	Voicemail	Tanya: “Hi Barbara, it's Tanya at St. Andrew's again. Please call me back. It's about Mrs. Ortiz.”	STORY. Tanya on the phone, leaving a message. Small chip: "Voicemail · 1".
05	Missed	Tanya: “No, no, no... Barbara? ...She just stepped out.”	STORY. Tanya is with another patient; the desk phone flashes "Missed call · Gentle Dental". She calls back: too late. Chip: "Voicemail · 2".
06	Another day?	Mrs. Ortiz: “Is everything okay? Should I just come back another day?” Tanya: “Two more minutes. I promise.”	STORY. Close on Mrs. Ortiz, anxious. Tanya, guilty, forces a smile. The emotional low point.
Act 3 · One message
07	What it is	Amanda: “Stop calling. Message her on the case.” Amanda: “Tooth Referral keeps every conversation about a patient on her case. Both offices see it.”	INTRO to Tooth Referral, in Amanda's words. A clean "one case" card builds beside her: patient, X-rays, messages.
08	Will she see it?	Tanya: “Barbara never picks up. Why would she see a message?” Amanda: “You mention her. She's notified the second you type her name.”	Over Amanda's answer: an "@Barbara" mention turning into a notification bubble on Gentle Dental's side.
09	Not lost	Tanya: “And it won't get buried in her email?” Amanda: “It's not an email. It lives on the case. Every question, every answer, one thread.”	The case's Office Communication thread: earlier messages between the two offices about Mrs. Ortiz, stacked in order.
10	No mix-ups	Tanya: “We have two Ortiz patients. What if she answers the wrong one?” Amanda: “She can't. The thread belongs to this patient. And she replies right under your question, quoted.”	The thread header "Mrs. Ortiz · Implant consult". A reply bubble with the original question quoted above it.

11	@Barbara Tanya: “'At Barbara. Do you have Mrs. Ortiz's newest X-ray? She's in the chair.' Send.”	Office Communication on the case. Tanya types; "@Barbara" highlights as a mention. Send.
12	Barbara sees it Barbara: “Oh! Attaching it now.”	Quick cut to Barbara at Gentle Dental: a notification "Tanya mentioned you". She replies, quoting Tanya's question, and attaches the X-ray.
13	Already here Tanya: “Already here. From May.” Amanda: “And it's on her case now. Anyone can open it. Nobody asks twice.”	The reply with the quoted question, and the X-ray appearing under Attachments "shared with both offices". Total time chip: "1 min 40 s".
14	A thousand times Amanda: “No more 'did you get my voicemail?'” Tanya: “I've said that sentence a thousand times this year.”	STORY. Tanya laughs for the first time this morning. The voicemail chips ("Voicemail · 1", "Voicemail · 2") fade away.
15	Every office Tanya: “Just Gentle Dental, or every office?” Amanda: “Every office that refers to us. No more twenty phone numbers on a sticky note.”	STORY + product. A sticky note of office phone numbers on Tanya's monitor; she peels it off. Behind it, a list of cases from different offices, each with its own message thread.

Act 4 · Ready

16	Ready Tanya: “Mrs. Ortiz? We're ready for you.” Mrs. Ortiz: “Already? Oh, thank goodness.”	STORY. Mrs. Ortiz stands up, relieved. Tanya hands her a donut on the way in.
17	Donut Amanda: “Donut?” Tanya: “Now I deserve one.” Amanda: “Tomorrow's the real test. You're out, and Greg's on his own.”	STORY. Tanya finally takes a bite. End card.

End card: Tooth Referral. Stop calling. Start the conversation on the case. · toothreferral.com

SCRIPT 22 · EPISODE 3 OF THE SERIES

Tanya's Day Off

How a referral is worked: anyone can pick it up · 15 clips · about 120 seconds · 281 spoken words

Story	Tanya is sick but won't go home: she left Mr. Turner a voicemail and promised herself she'd call back. The next morning Greg is alone at the desk for the first time, Mr. Turner calls, a little annoyed, and Greg has no idea who called him.
Topic	Picking up someone else's work: statuses on every referral, next-step reminders, automatic updates to the referring office, the insurance request link and the notifications feed.
Hook	"Somebody called me yesterday. I've been waiting by the phone all morning." · Greg didn't call him. The person who did is home sick.
Goal	Put the viewer in a moment every office knows (a call about work someone else started) and let them feel Greg's panic before showing the calm answer. The "system for the team" idea is never said; it is felt.
Builds from video 1	In video 1 Tanya asked: "So if I'm out tomorrow..." and Amanda answered: "Greg opens it and knows exactly where it stands." This is that exact day, and Greg's first real test. It also answers video 1's old problem: "every referral lives in someone's inbox or someone's head".
Turns the page	Ends on Tanya's text back: "Tomorrow I have three letters and a recital. Pray for me." (opens Script 23)
Cast and set	Tanya and Amanda (evening), then Greg, the newer front-desk colleague, covering alone the next morning. Mr. Turner, a patient, on the phone.

FEATURES SHOWN

Incoming list with a status on every referral · Contact statuses (Left a Voicemail) with time and name · Scheduling from the status chips · Automatic status updates to the referring office · Next-step reminders · Request insurance from the patient (secure link) · Notifications feed

The script

	DIALOGUE	ON SCREEN (TOOTH REFERRAL)
Act 1 · The night before
01	Go home Amanda: “You sound terrible. Go home.” Tanya: “I left Mr. Turner a voicemail. I promised I'd call him back.”	STORY. Evening, office almost empty. Tanya coughing, coat half on.

02	Three weeks Amanda: “Greg's here tomorrow.” Tanya: “Greg's been here three weeks.” Amanda: “Go. Home.”	STORY. Tanya hesitates, looks at her screen, then leaves. Lights go off.

Act 2 · Greg, alone

03	The call Greg: “St. Andrew's, this is Greg.” Mr. Turner: “Somebody called me yesterday. I've been waiting all morning.”	STORY. Next morning. Greg alone at the desk for the first time, nervous. A gruff older voice on the phone.
04	Sticky notes Greg: “One moment, sir...” Greg: “'Call T back'? ...Wait. She doesn't work off sticky notes anymore.”	STORY. On hold. Tanya's monitor covered in sticky notes. Greg groans, then sits up.

Act 3 · Where she left off

05	What it is Greg: “Tooth Referral. Every referral is one case, and every call, note and update is on it. Whoever opens it knows where it stands.”	INTRO to Tooth Referral, in Greg's words, as he types "Turner". A "one case" card builds: status, history, reminders.
06	From zero Greg: “Every time someone calls a patient, they tap what happened. Left a voicemail. Callback requested. So the next person never starts from zero.”	Over his line: the contact status chips (Left a Voicemail, Callback Requested, Unable to Contact) light up one by one.
07	Ten past four Greg: “'Left a voicemail.' Yesterday, 4:10. Tanya. ...Mr. Turner? She was calling to book you. Tuesday at ten?”	The case: "Left a Voicemail" with time and name. Greg clicks Consultation Scheduled. Green toast.
08	Thank you Mr. Turner: “Tuesday's fine. Tell the young lady thank you.” Greg: “And his dentist already got the update.”	STORY. The voice softens. Split: Gentle Dental sees "Consultation Scheduled".
09	She thought ahead Greg: “She even set a reminder for today. It came to me at eight. I just didn't look.”	The reminder notification from 8:02 AM. Greg laughs at himself.
10	On a roll Greg: “Missing insurance. That used to be my whole morning on the phone. Request from patient... and she's already sent her card.”	Request from patient, toast, then Notifications: "patient submitted insurance" and the card on the case.

Act 4 · Nothing waiting

11	Holding up Amanda: “How are you holding up?” Greg: “Fine. Everything she touched is right there. What she did, when, and what's next.”	STORY. Amanda back from the treatment room. Greg relaxed.

12	Already knew	Amanda: “Did you call his dentist about Mr. Turner?” Greg: “Didn't have to. Every status change goes to them. They saw 'scheduled' before I hung up.”	Split: Gentle Dental's view of the same referral, status "Consultation Scheduled", time stamped this morning.
13	Nothing slips	Amanda: “And the insurance? How did you know she sent it?” Greg: “Notifications. Every message, every update, from every office, in one list. Nothing slips.”	The Notifications feed scrolling: patient submitted insurance, consultation scheduled, message from Gentle Dental.
14	Tanya's head	Amanda: “All of that used to live in Tanya's head.” Greg: “Now it lives on the case. And her head gets a day off.”	STORY. Amanda laughs. Behind them, every row on the Incoming list shows a current status.
15	Pray for me	Greg: “'Mr. Turner booked. He says thank you. Go back to sleep.'” Tanya: “'Thank you. Tomorrow: three letters and a recital. Pray for me.'”	STORY. Greg texts; cut to Tanya on her couch with tea, smiling, typing back. End card.

End card: Tooth Referral. Whoever opens it knows where it stands. · toothreferral.com

SCRIPT 23 · EPISODE 4 OF THE SERIES

Front Row

How a referral is closed: notes, signed and sent before five · 16 clips · about 130 seconds · 244 spoken words

Story	Tanya's daughter Lily has her first piano solo at 5:30. Tanya promised her the front row. Last spring she missed the first half of the recital typing completion letters. At 4:15 three finished cases land on her desk.
Topic	Closing the loop: note templates that fill themselves in, your own letter imported from Word, routing to the doctor to sign, e-signature, the signed note on the case for both offices, copy into your electronic health record.
Hook	"Front row. She made me promise." · At 4:15, three completion letters land on her desk.
Goal	Give the paperwork a human stake (a promise to a child) and let the software quietly win. The viewer should want those 20 minutes back in their own day.
Builds from video 1	Video 1 opened with a team "losing steam" and a patient nobody called back. This is the other end of the same journey: the loop closes on time and the people go home. Together with 21 and 22 the series follows one referral: the offices talk about it, it is worked, it is closed.
Turns the page	Ends on Greg: "The doctor should see this from the owner's side." · Amanda: "The numbers? That's a whole other story." (opens the Analytics episode)
Cast and set	Tanya and Amanda at the front desk, Greg in the background. Lily, Tanya's daughter, is only seen in a photo and a video on a phone.

FEATURES SHOWN

Changing the status to Completed opens the note · Templates with smart fields that fill themselves in · Your own letter imported from Word · Route to the doctor to sign · E-signature · Signed note on the case, visible to both offices · Copy into your electronic health record · Save as a new template

The script

DIALOGUE	ON SCREEN (TOOTH REFERRAL)
Act 1 · The promise

01	Her first solo	Tanya: “Her first solo. 5:30 tonight.” Amanda: “That dress! She'll be amazing.”	STORY. Morning. Tanya shows Amanda a photo of Lily at a piano.
02	Front row	Tanya: “I promised her the front row. Last spring I missed half of it, typing letters.”	STORY. Tanya tapes the photo to her monitor.
Act 2 · 4:15
03	Three cases	Greg: “Three finished cases. Gentle Dental wants the letters today.”	STORY. Greg sets down three patient names. Clock chip: 4:15 PM. Tanya looks at the photo.
04	The old way	Amanda: “That's an hour. Print, sign, scan, fax.” Tanya: “Not anymore. Watch.”	STORY. Amanda has her coat on. Tanya rolls up her sleeves.
Act 3 · Ten minutes
05	What it is	Tanya: “With Tooth Referral the case already knows everything. So the letter writes itself: her name, birthday, the dentist. I add two lines.”	INTRO to Tooth Referral, in Tanya's words. She marks Completed; the letter opens with the fields filling in.
06	Our own letter	Amanda: “Doesn't it sound like a robot wrote it?” Tanya: “It's our letter, our wording. We imported it from Word. It just fills in the blanks.”	The template with smart fields switching to real values. "Import from Word" visible.
07	How does it know	Amanda: “How does it know her birthday? Her dentist?” Tanya: “It's on the case from the referral. Tooth Referral fills it in. I just write the visit.”	The smart fields highlighted one by one on the letter, each with a thin line back to where it came from on the case.
08	Every kind	Amanda: “And when a patient declines treatment?” Tanya: “There's a template for that too. Consultation done, declined, completed. Each one fills itself in.”	The template list: General, Consultation Completed, Declined Appointment, each opening with its fields filled.
09	Signed	Amanda: “The doctor's with a patient.” Tanya: “So I route it to him. He signs between patients. I don't chase him down the hall.”	Route to a doctor to sign, then the e-signature: "All done, your document is signed!"
10	Both offices	Amanda: “And Barbara?” Tanya: “Signed. And she can open it right now. No fax, no 'did you get it?' call.”	Signed note "visible to both offices"; split with Gentle Dental. Then the copy step.

11	Proof Amanda: “And if anyone ever says they never got it?” Tanya: “It's signed, dated and on the case for both offices. Nobody has to wonder.”	Signed notes panel: "Completion Note · Signed · date · visible to both offices", the signature visible.
12	Our chart Amanda: “And our own chart?” Tanya: “Copy, paste, into our electronic health record. Done.”	The "copy into your electronic health record" step highlighted.
13	One click Tanya: “Saved as a template. The other two, one click each.”	Save as New Template. Three names tick off. Clock chip: 4:51 PM.

Act 4 · Front row

14	Go Amanda: “Four fifty-one. Go!” Tanya: “Front row!”	STORY. Tanya grabs her coat and the photo and runs out.
15	The video Amanda: “Greg, look.”	STORY. Later. Amanda's phone: Lily at the piano, filmed from the front row. Text: "Made it."
16	The owner's side Greg: “The doctor should see this from the owner's side.” Amanda: “The numbers? That's a whole other story.”	STORY. Both smiling at the phone. A one-second glimpse of the Analytics page, blurred. End card.

End card: Tooth Referral. Completion letters that write themselves. · toothreferral.com