Nobody Tells You This

Curiosity hook (library #9) + a number. Three honest reasons GPs stop referring, each answered on the dashboard.

LENGTH	MADE IN	GOAL
8 clips × 8 s = 64 s	Google Flow, one 8 s clip per segment	Value first, one soft call to action at the end (check out ToothReferral). No prices.

Why this version

'Nobody tells you this' opens a gap the viewer wants closed, and '3 reasons' tells them the video has an end. Each reason is a pain they recognise, fixed on screen right after.

The whole script at a glance

00-08 s	Hook · “Nobody tells you this: there are three reasons GPs quietly stop sending you referrals.”
08-16 s	Reason 1: silence · “Reason one: they send a patient and never hear back. Silence feels like their patient got lost.”
16-24 s	The fix: status · “Here's the fix. In Tooth Referral, every incoming referral shows its status, and the GP sees each update.”
24-32 s	Reason 2: X-rays · “Reason two: you keep asking for X-rays. Now they're attached to the referral, shared with both offices.”
32-40 s	Reason 3: phone tag · “Reason three: phone tag. Message the GP right inside the case, and the answer stays with the patient.”
40-48 s	One update · “And when you book the consult, update the status once. The referring office knows instantly. No callbacks.”
48-56 s	Why they keep sending · “That's what keeps GPs sending: they always know where their patient is, and you never chase paperwork.”
56-64 s	Call to action · “If you want referrals that keep coming back, check out Tooth Referral and see your incoming list.”

Before you generate

- One clip = one segment = 8 seconds. Keep every line to the words written (14 to 20 words fits 8 s at a natural pace). Longer lines get rushed or cut.
- Start and end every clip in the rest pose. Hands relaxed at chest height, looking at camera, mouth closed for about half a second at the very start and end. This is what lets me join the clips so they feel like one take.
- Gestures happen inside the frame, at chest-to-shoulder height. A hand that leaves the frame cannot be tracked, and the animation that rides on it has nowhere to land.
- Point at the same places every time. Upper-left = where the dashboard panel will appear. Right side = where chat / notifications appear. Keep these consistent so the animations always land where he points.
- Paste the dark 'Google Flow prompt' box as is, one box per clip. Each box is complete on its own: camera, a second-by-second beat sheet of hand gestures with the words they land on, facial expression, head movement and the spoken line. The same prompts are in the matching -Flow-prompts.txt file, which copies cleaner than a PDF. If Flow blocks a swear word, use the clean line given at the end of that prompt.

This Will Cost You Money

Curiosity hook (library #7). The money in lost referrals, then the dashboard that keeps every one.

LENGTH	MADE IN	GOAL
8 clips × 8 s = 64 s	Google Flow, one 8 s clip per segment	Value first, one soft call to action at the end (check out ToothReferral). No prices.

Why this version

Money is the fastest attention-grabber for practice owners, and it is true: a lost referral is a patient who books elsewhere. The rest shows how nothing gets lost.

The whole script at a glance

00-08 s	Hook · “This will cost you money: every referral that gets lost is a patient who books somewhere else.”
08-16 s	How it happens · “And it happens quietly: a fax on the wrong desk, a voicemail nobody plays, an email from June.”
16-24 s	One list · “So here's how incoming referrals should look: one list, every office, every patient, nothing buried.”
24-32 s	New lands on top · “New referral? It lands at the top, marked New, with the referring office and the date it came in.”
32-40 s	Search and filter · “Search any patient, filter by status or month, and see who still needs a call. Nothing slips.”
40-48 s	Everything ready · “Open it, and everything is there: diagnosis, X-rays, insurance cards, front and back. Ready before the patient sits down.”
48-56 s	A patient kept · “Then one status update tells the referring office the consult is booked. That's a patient you kept.”
56-64 s	Call to action · “Stop losing patients you were already sent. Check out Tooth Referral and keep every referral in one place.”

You Weren't Supposed To See This

Curiosity hook (library #6). A behind-the-scenes tour of a specialist's referral inbox, feature by feature.

LENGTH	MADE IN	GOAL
8 clips × 8 s = 64 s	Google Flow, one 8 s clip per segment	Value first, one soft call to action at the end (check out ToothReferral). No prices.

Why this version

'You weren't supposed to see this' makes a product tour feel like a peek behind the curtain, which keeps people watching through the details.

The whole script at a glance

00-08 s	Hook · “You weren't supposed to see this: what a specialist's referral inbox really looks like on a Monday.”
16-24 s	Dots and badges · “Green dot means the office is connected. Purple badge means someone tagged you in a message.”
24-32 s	The whole case · “Click a patient and the whole case opens: who referred them, why, and what treatment they want.”
32-40 s	Files and history · “Every X-ray and insurance card is attached, and the activity log shows exactly who changed what, and when.”
40-48 s	Private vs shared · “Private admin notes stay in your office. Shared notes go to both offices. You choose, every time.”
48-56 s	PDF and HIPAA · “Need it on paper? Download the referral as a PDF in one click. And it's all HIPAA compliant.”
56-64 s	Call to action · “That's the inbox nobody shows you. Check out Tooth Referral and see what yours could look like.”

Before you generate

- One clip = one segment = 8 seconds. Keep every line to the words written (14 to 20 words fits 8 s at a natural pace). Longer lines get rushed or cut.
- Start and end every clip in the rest pose. Hands relaxed at chest height, looking at camera, mouth closed for about half a second at the very start and end. This is what lets me join the clips so they feel like one take.
- Gestures happen inside the frame, at chest-to-shoulder height. A hand that leaves the frame cannot be tracked, and the animation that rides on it has nowhere to land.
- Point at the same places every time. Upper-left = where the dashboard panel will appear. Right side = where chat / notifications appear. Keep these consistent so the animations always land where he points.
- Paste the dark 'Google Flow prompt' box as is, one box per clip. Each box is complete on its own: camera, a second-by-second beat sheet of hand gestures with the words they land on, facial expression, head movement and the spoken line. The same prompts are in the matching -Flow-prompts.txt file, which copies cleaner than a PDF. If Flow blocks a swear word, use the clean line given at the end of that prompt.

Gesture key (what each gesture turns into in the edit)

POINT	index finger to a spot: a panel, callout or highlight appears there
SWIPE	flat hand across the body: the screen changes in that direction
COUNT	fingers 1-2-3: items pop in one per finger
TAP	a small forward finger tap in the air: a click / button press
PINCH-OUT	fingers spread apart: zoom into the dashboard
JOIN	hands come together / fingers interlock: offices connect into one network
TOSS	flick over the shoulder: the old way gets thrown out of frame

Never Ever Chase A Referral

Warning + number + desire hook (the Devin Jatho reference). The 3 ways people chase referrals, and what replaces each.

LENGTH	MADE IN	GOAL
8 clips × 8 s = 64 s	Google Flow, one 8 s clip per segment	Value first, one soft call to action at the end (check out ToothReferral). No prices.

Why this version

'Never ever' plus '3 ways' plus 'the patient in your chair' is the exact shape of the reference hook; the three bad habits make a clean structure the dashboard then fixes one by one.

The whole script at a glance

00-08 s	Hook · “Never ever chase a referral these three ways if you want the patient in your chair this week.”
08-16 s	The 3 ways · “One: calling the GP's front desk and waiting on hold. Two: faxing again. Three: the 'just checking in' email.”
16-24 s	Do this instead · “Do this instead. Open Tooth Referral, go to Incoming, and every referral from every office is already there.”
24-32 s	Missing X-ray · “Missing an X-ray? Ask in the case chat. The GP gets tagged, answers, and attaches the file right there.”
32-40 s	Insurance too · “Need the insurance? It's already in the case, front and back, next to the X-rays. No more faxes.”
40-48 s	One update · “Booked the consult? Update the status once, and the referring office is notified in seconds.”
48-56 s	What you get · “That's three chases you never make again. Less phone tag, faster consults, and GPs who keep sending patients.”
56-64 s	Call to action · “So never ever chase again. Check out Tooth Referral and bring every incoming referral into one list.”

Before you generate

- One clip = one segment = 8 seconds. Keep every line to the words written (14 to 20 words fits 8 s at a natural pace). Longer lines get rushed or cut.
- Start and end every clip in the rest pose. Hands relaxed at chest height, looking at camera, mouth closed for about half a second at the very start and end. This is what lets me join the clips so they feel like one take.
- Gestures happen inside the frame, at chest-to-shoulder height. A hand that leaves the frame cannot be tracked, and the animation that rides on it has nowhere to land.
- Point at the same places every time. Upper-left = where the dashboard panel will appear. Right side = where chat / notifications appear. Keep these consistent so the animations always land where he points.
- Paste the dark 'Google Flow prompt' box as is, one box per clip. Each box is complete on its own: camera, a second-by-second beat sheet of hand gestures with the words they land on, facial expression, head movement and the spoken line. The same prompts are in the matching -Flow-prompts.txt file, which copies cleaner than a PDF. If Flow blocks a swear word, use the clean line given at the end of that prompt.

Gesture key (what each gesture turns into in the edit)

POINT	index finger to a spot: a panel, callout or highlight appears there
SWIPE	flat hand across the body: the screen changes in that direction
COUNT	fingers 1-2-3: items pop in one per finger
TAP	a small forward finger tap in the air: a click / button press
PINCH-OUT	fingers spread apart: zoom into the dashboard
JOIN	hands come together / fingers interlock: offices connect into one network
TOSS	flick over the shoulder: the old way gets thrown out of frame
