The Front Desk Magic Show

about 75 s · 10 clips × 8 s | 174 words | Hook: "I shouldn't be saying this..." (hook reference library)

The office is quietly losing money; the new analytics show exactly where; the ROI and closing the loop with GPs.

#	DIALOGUE (8 S)	EXPRESSION	ON SCREEN / EDIT
01	“I shouldn't be saying this, but our front desk is the best magician in town. They make referrals disappear.”	Conspiratorial whisper, then a proud deadpan smile	Red flash · stacked text THEY MAKE REFERRALS DISAPPEAR · sparkle SFX
02	“Watch. A GP sends a patient. A voicemail goes out. And poof... nobody calls back. Ta-da!”	Magician hands, then a flat face	Referral card vanishes in a puff · status pill “Left a Voice Message” · tiny ta-da sting
03	“Their best trick? Marking a case 'Scheduled' when nobody scheduled anything. The audience never even sees it.”	Mock-impressed, then a frustrated eye-roll	“Scheduled” pill with no appointment behind it, struck in red
04	“Here's the problem: every disappearing act costs specialists tens of thousands in lost production, every single month.”	Humour drops; serious, leaning in	Money-drain animation · “tens of thousands / month”
05	“So I checked ToothReferral's analytics. It literally shows the leak: received, contacted, scheduled, and where patients dropped off.”	Curious, then “gotcha”	Split screen: the real Referral funnel, “3 dropped · 50% leak” rows highlighted
06	“It even tracks our ghost rate. Yes, that's a real number now. Very spooky. Very fixable.”	Spooky voice on “spooky”, then a confident grin	Zoom on the Ghost rate card · ghost icon pops, gets a green tick
07	“Needs attention flags the cold cases, and anyone on the team can re-assign them in one click.”	Practical, relieved	Needs attention panel · cursor clicks “Re-assign”
08	“Now the math: one rescued referral pays for the system. One saved after staff turnover covers a whole year.”	Confident, counting on fingers	“1 referral = paid for” → “1 saved = a full year”
09	“When treatment's done, a signed completion note goes straight back to the GP. Happy GPs send more patients.”	Warm and proud	DocuSign completion note → “signed and sent successfully” → “Signed Referral”
10	“Setup takes about five minutes. Check out ToothReferral, and retire your front desk's magic act for good.”	Playful wink, then a sincere smile	“Magic show: cancelled” stamp → logo, link, end card

The Expensive Suggestion Box

about 78 s · 10 clips × 8 s | 185 words | Hook: "This will cost you money:" (hook reference library)

The website loses patients; Website Lead Forms win them back; network building, ROI and a practice built to sell.

#	DIALOGUE (8 S)	EXPRESSION	ON SCREEN / EDIT
01	"This will cost you money: the contact form on your website is basically a very expensive suggestion box."	Serious setup, deadpan on "suggestion box"	Red flash · stacked text THIS WILL COST YOU MONEY · suggestion-box icon drops
02	"Patients fill it out, it lands in an inbox, and then it just sits there. Like a gym membership in February."	Dry humour, a little shrug	Inbox card gathering dust · "February" calendar gag
03	"Meanwhile, the specialist down the street just booked that patient. Rude. But very, very effective."	Mock-offended, then grudging respect	Patient card slides off to "the office down the street"
04	"ToothReferral turns that contact page into a lead generator. Patients pick their treatment and see what you're known for."	Bright, a reveal	Website Lead Forms: live patient preview, "What we are known for!" chips, treatment dropdown
05	"Insured patients submit their insurance right on the form for pre-verification. Uninsured? They see your membership plans instead."	Explaining, then a satisfied nod	Zoom on the "Submit Insurance" and "No Insurance" buttons
06	"Every submission lands securely in your ToothReferral portal, not your email. And you can see exactly where your referrals come from."	Reassuring	"Safe lead generator" copy → Referral sources donut (embed widget, network, manual)
07	"Top senders, top procedures, time to first contact. Finally, someone knows which GP deserves a fruit basket."	Playful, counting, then a laugh	Top senders highlighted · fruit-basket icon lands on the top GP
08	"Then build your network: invite your referring offices, and send every GP a signed completion note when treatment's done."	Warm, sincere	Cursor presses "Invite your Network" → DocuSign completion note being signed
09	"Here's the return: one new referral pays for the system. And a practice without sticky notes is worth more to a buyer."	Confident, matter-of-fact	"1 referral = paid for" → sticky note "key-person risk" peeled off → "transferable asset ✓"
10	"Setup takes about five minutes. Check out ToothReferral, and let that suggestion box finally retire."	Smiling, a light wave goodbye	Suggestion box rides off into the sunset → logo, link, end card
